

8 QUESTIONS TO GET TO KNOW YOUR TEAM

See your team in a new light.

HOW THIS WORKS

Getting to know your team can be a challenge especially when we are all neck-deep in the daily grind.

Having built many teams ourselves, we've experienced the importance of building strong bonds and we know how exactly to help you.

This is a structured way to uncover the hidden strengths of your team.

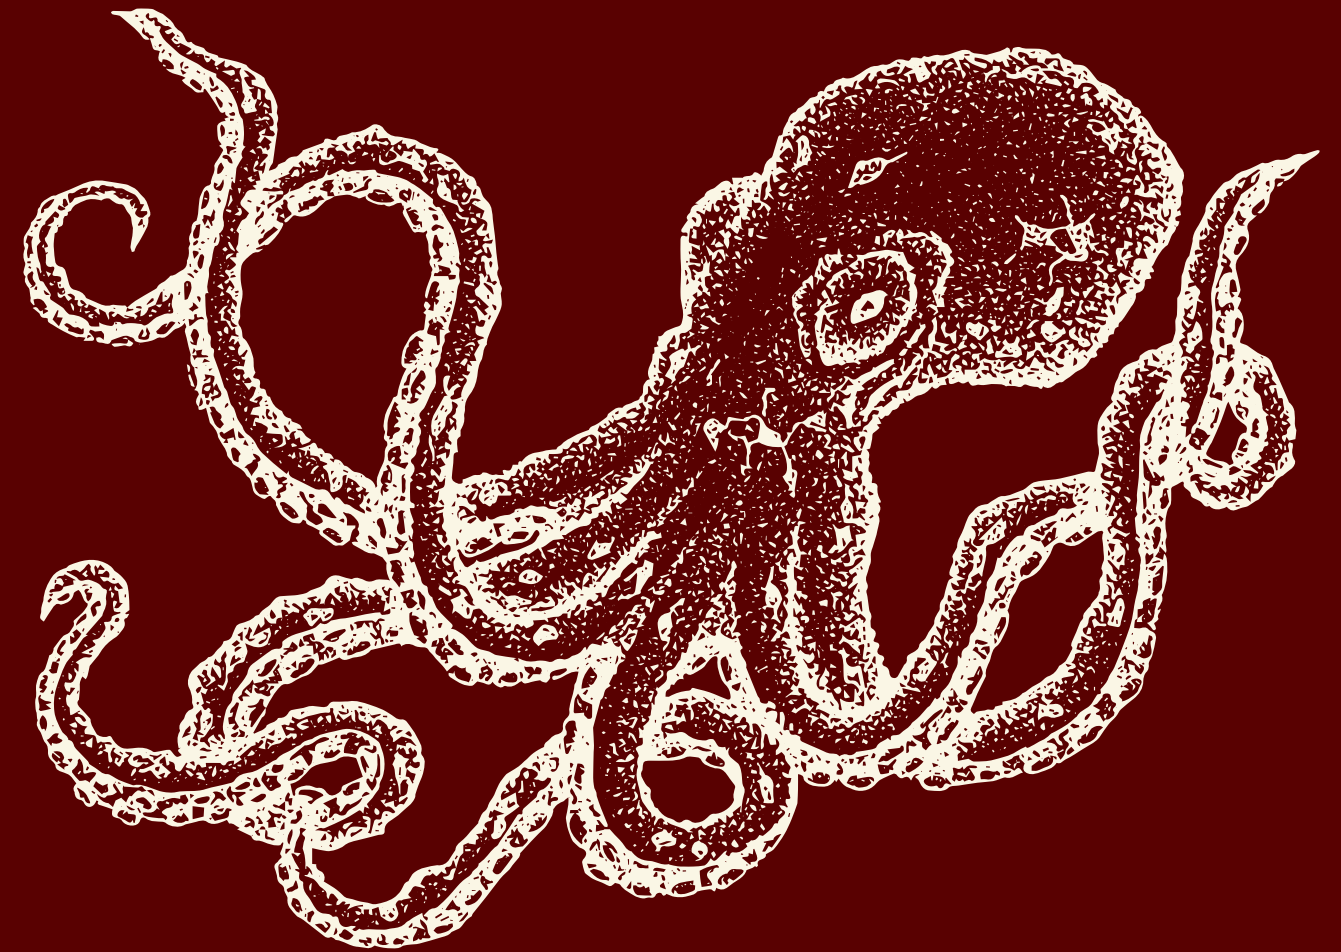

In your next few team huddle sessions, use these questions to foster meaningful discussions with your team.

These questions are purposefully crafted as an opening to begin conversations that can deepen your understanding of your team. Team huddles can be enjoyable and insightful, as everyone becomes more aware of what energizes, drains and motivates them, and what work partnerships could potentially be formed.

QUESTION ONE:

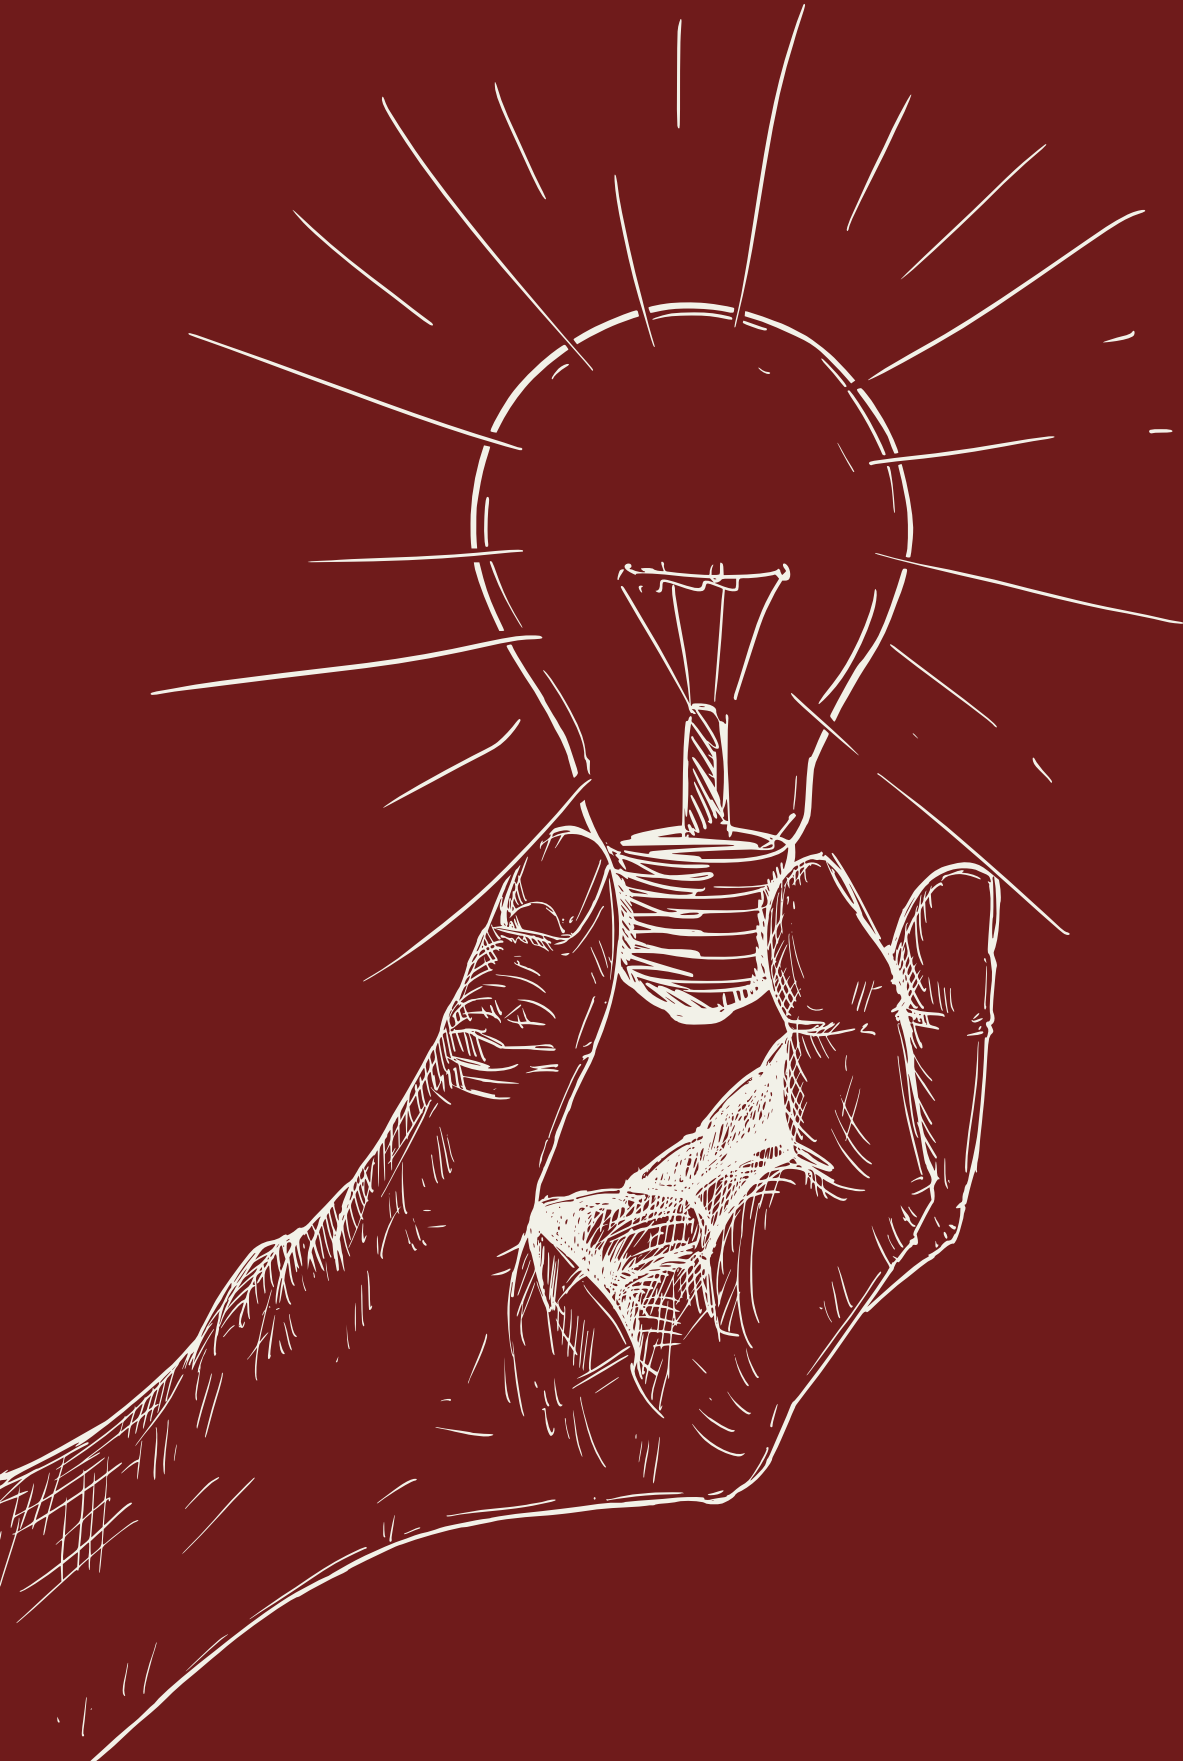

What animal best represents you at work and why?

eg: Octopus – Enjoy multitasking and being busy

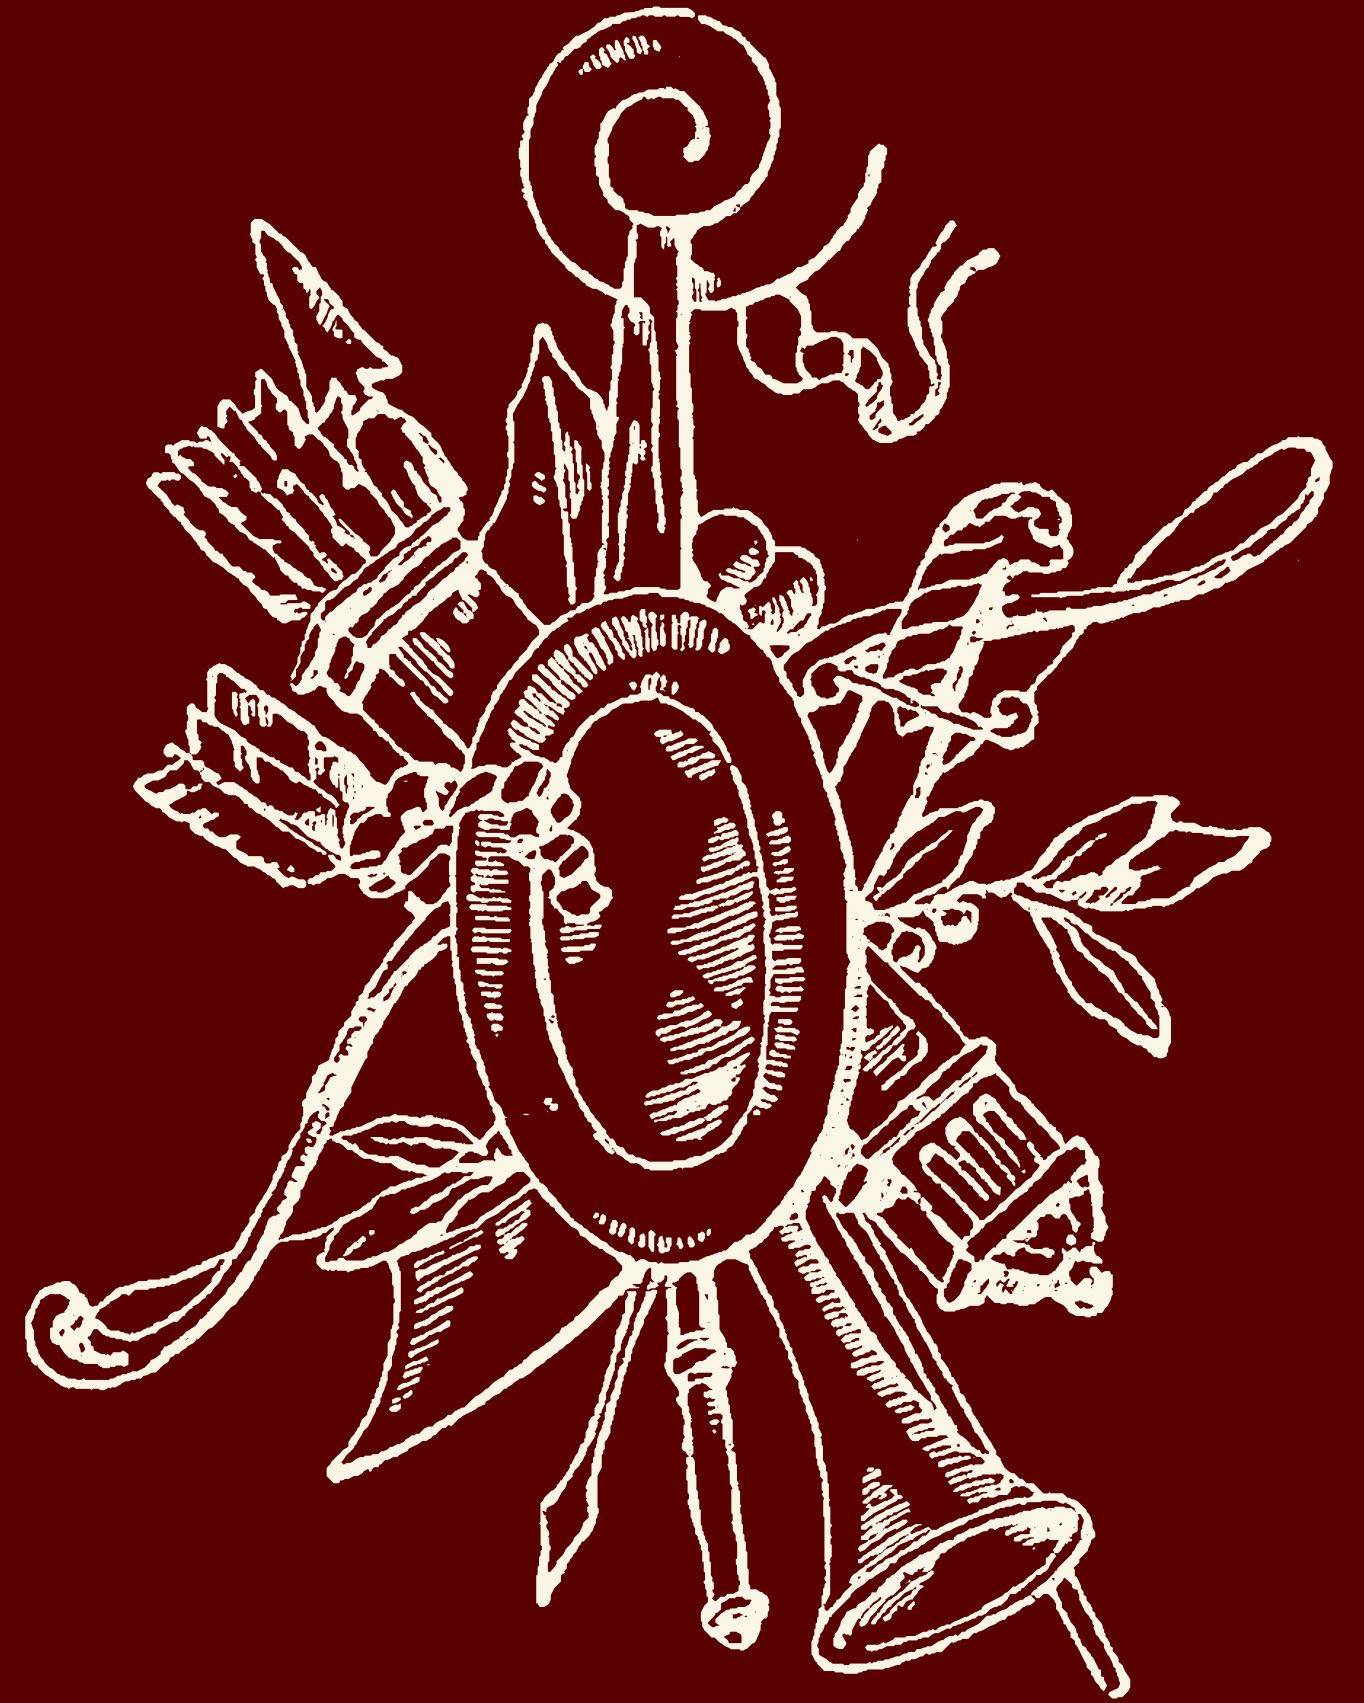

INSIGHT:

The traits we shared are likely to represent what we personally value in life.

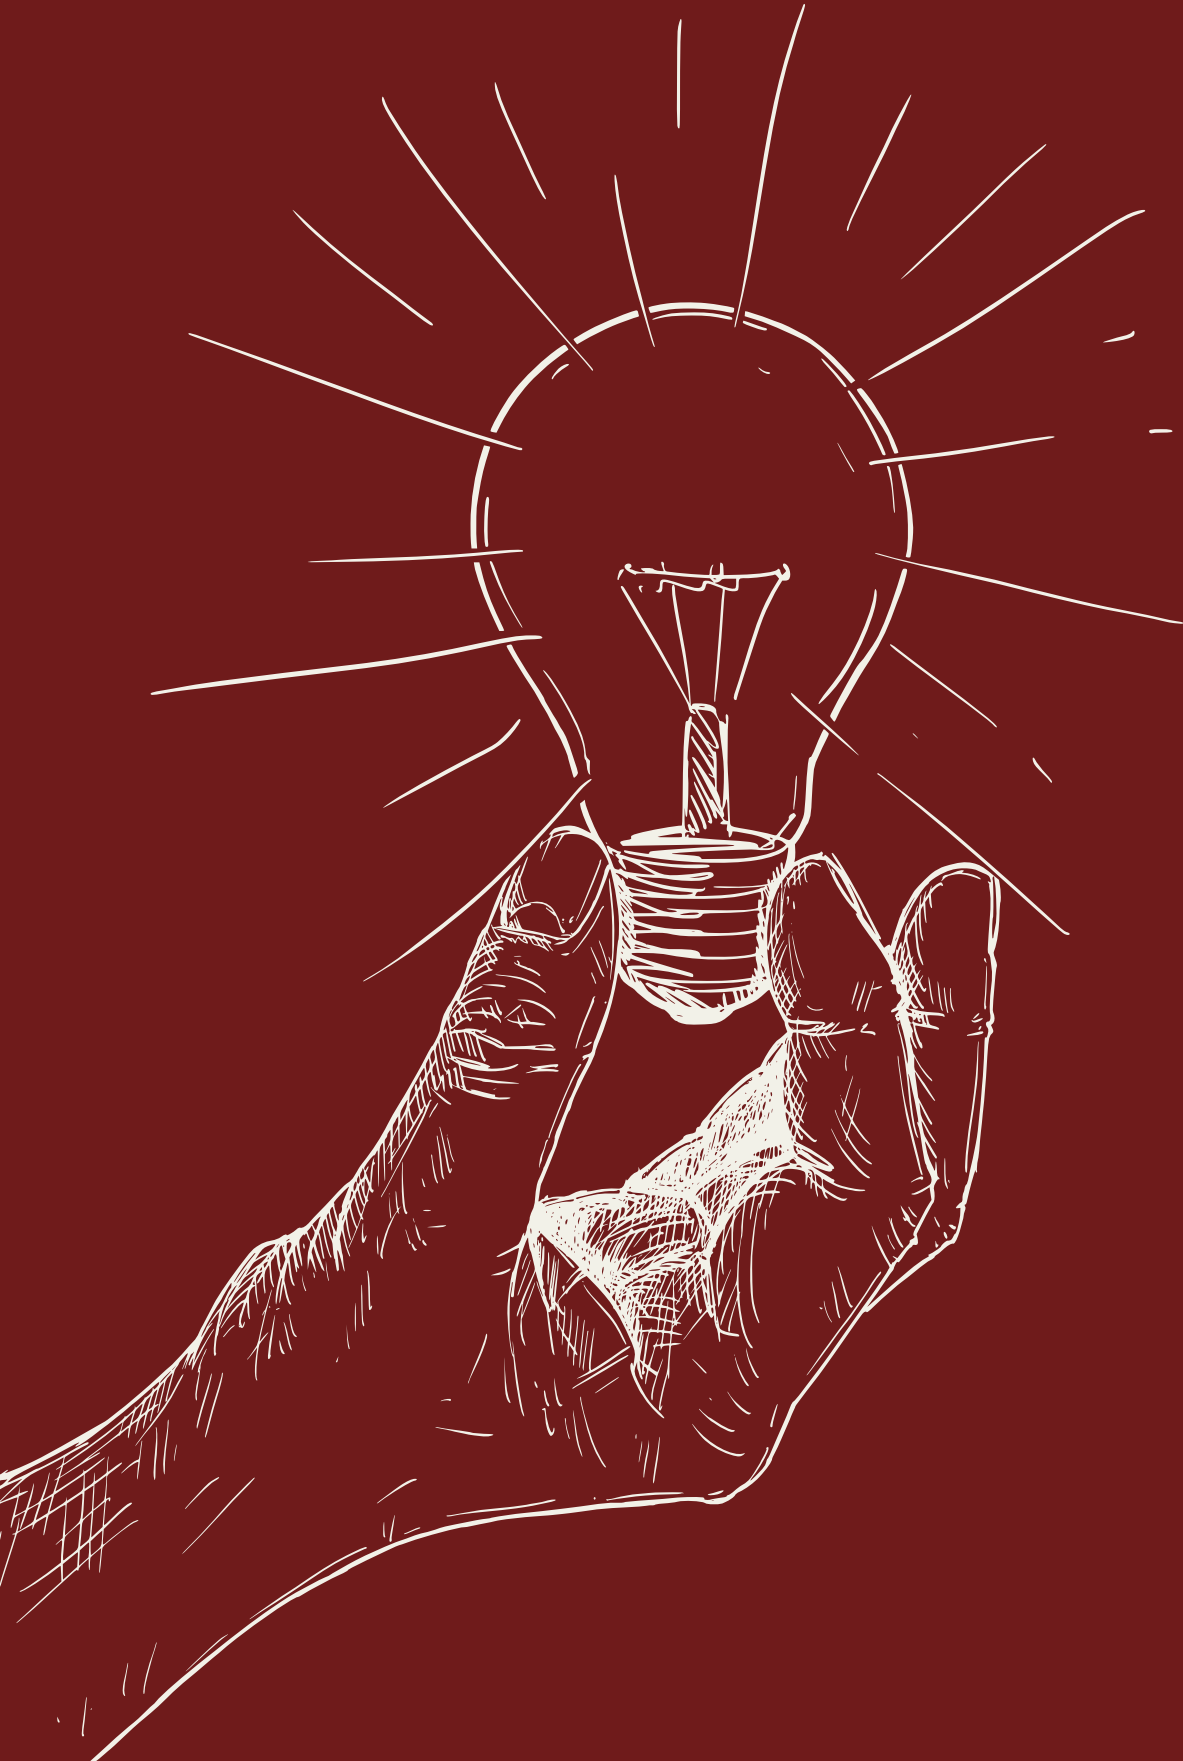

QUESTION TWO:

What is one thing
people say you are good at but you
find draining?

INSIGHT:

We might still be drained by certain tasks despite having the skillset for them.

It is likely that they do not tap on our innate strengths.

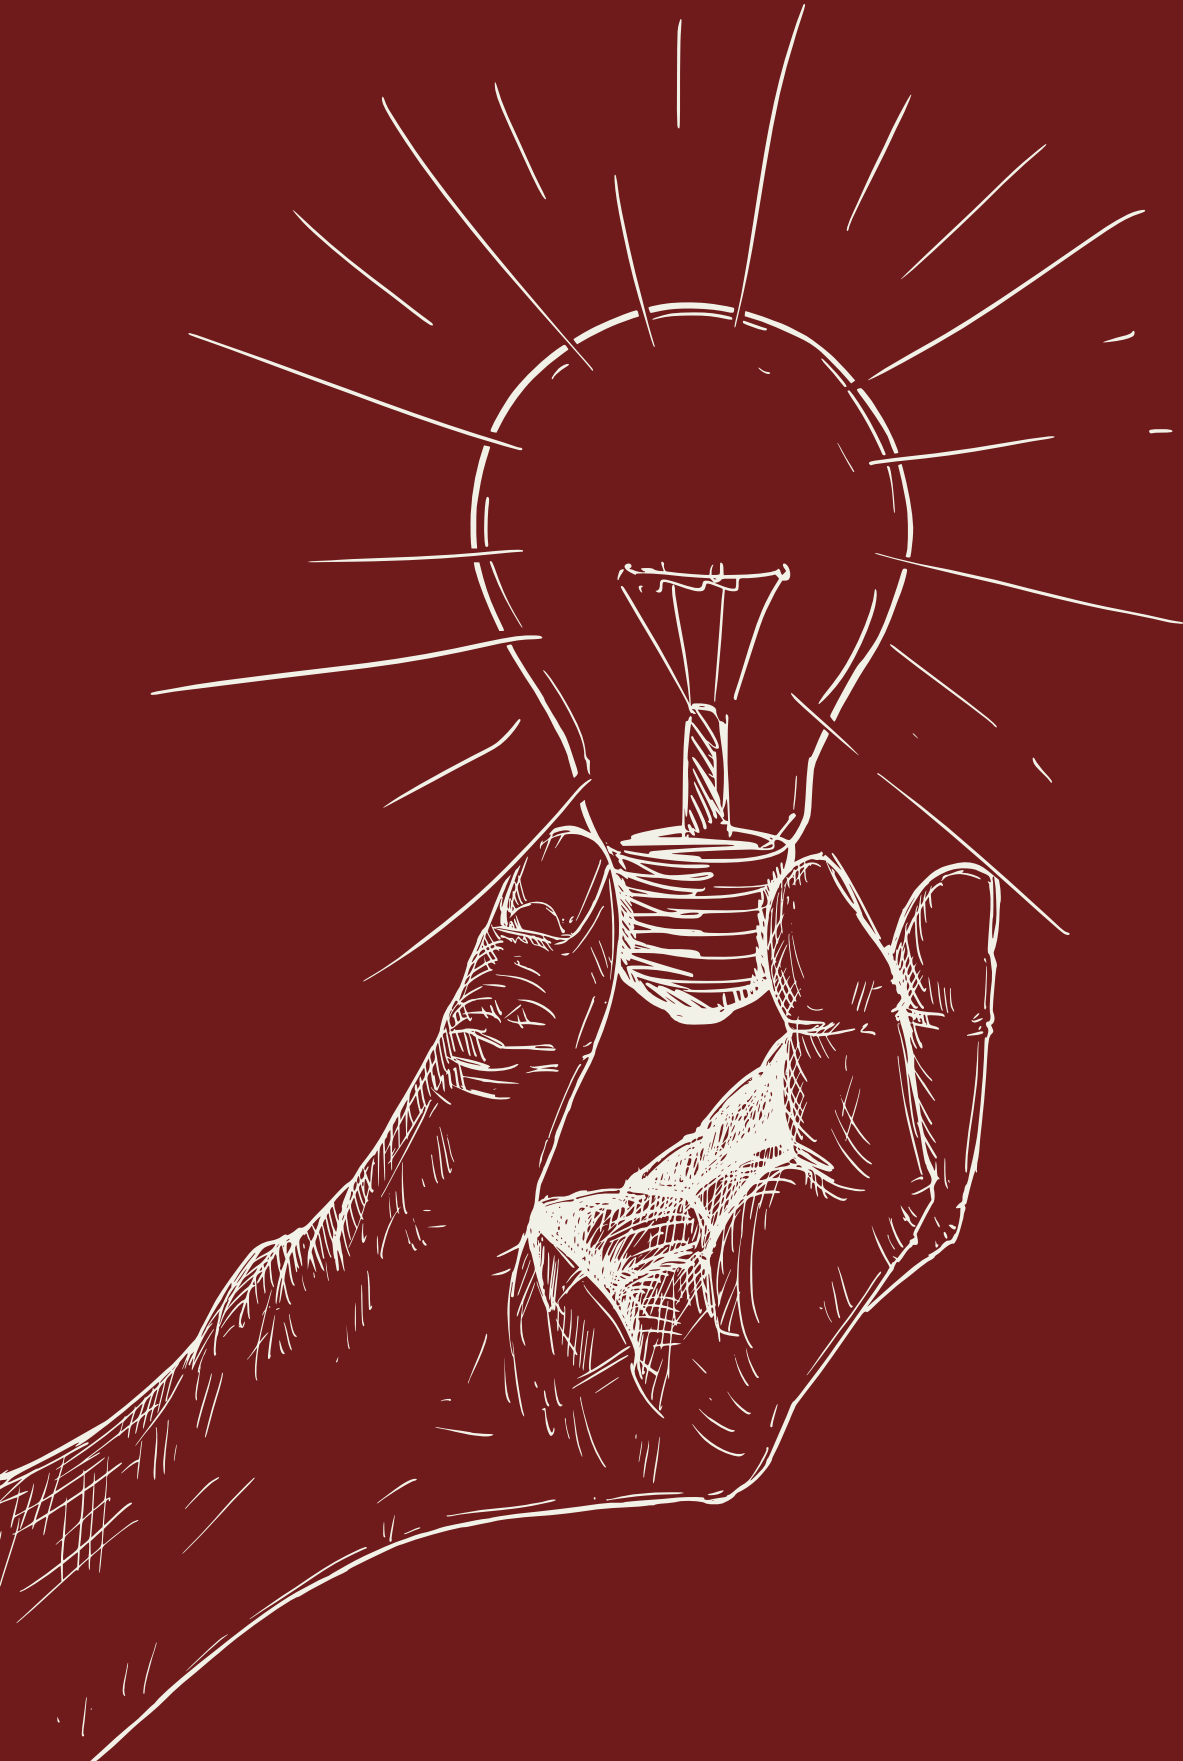

QUESTION THREE:

Which task at work
do you enjoy the most?

Task that makes you feel excited or energised.

INSIGHT:

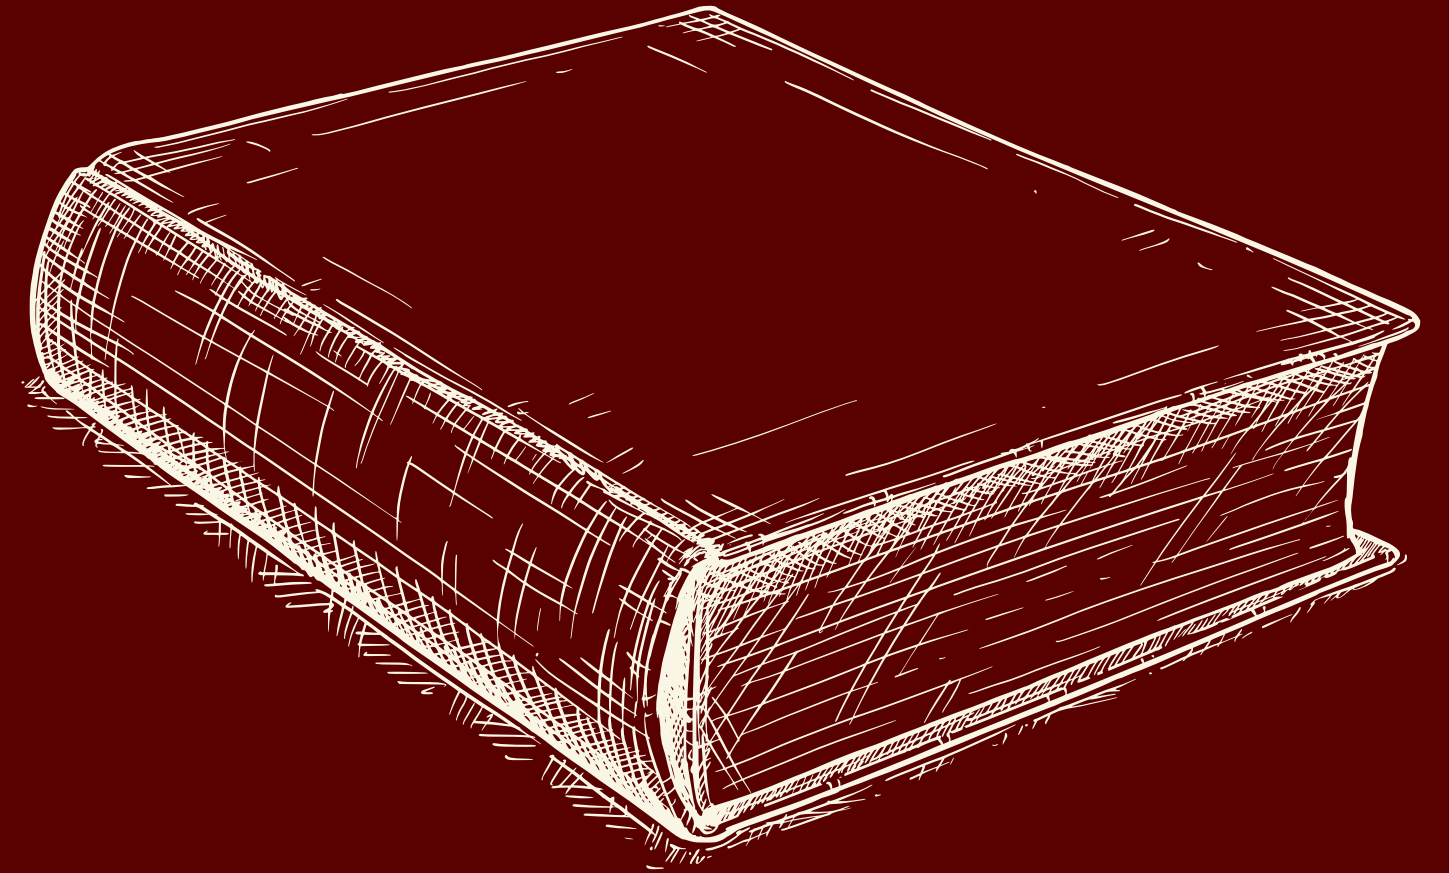

The tasks that we enjoy the most give us a glimpse of our innate strengths.

These are areas that you could seek more opportunities in.

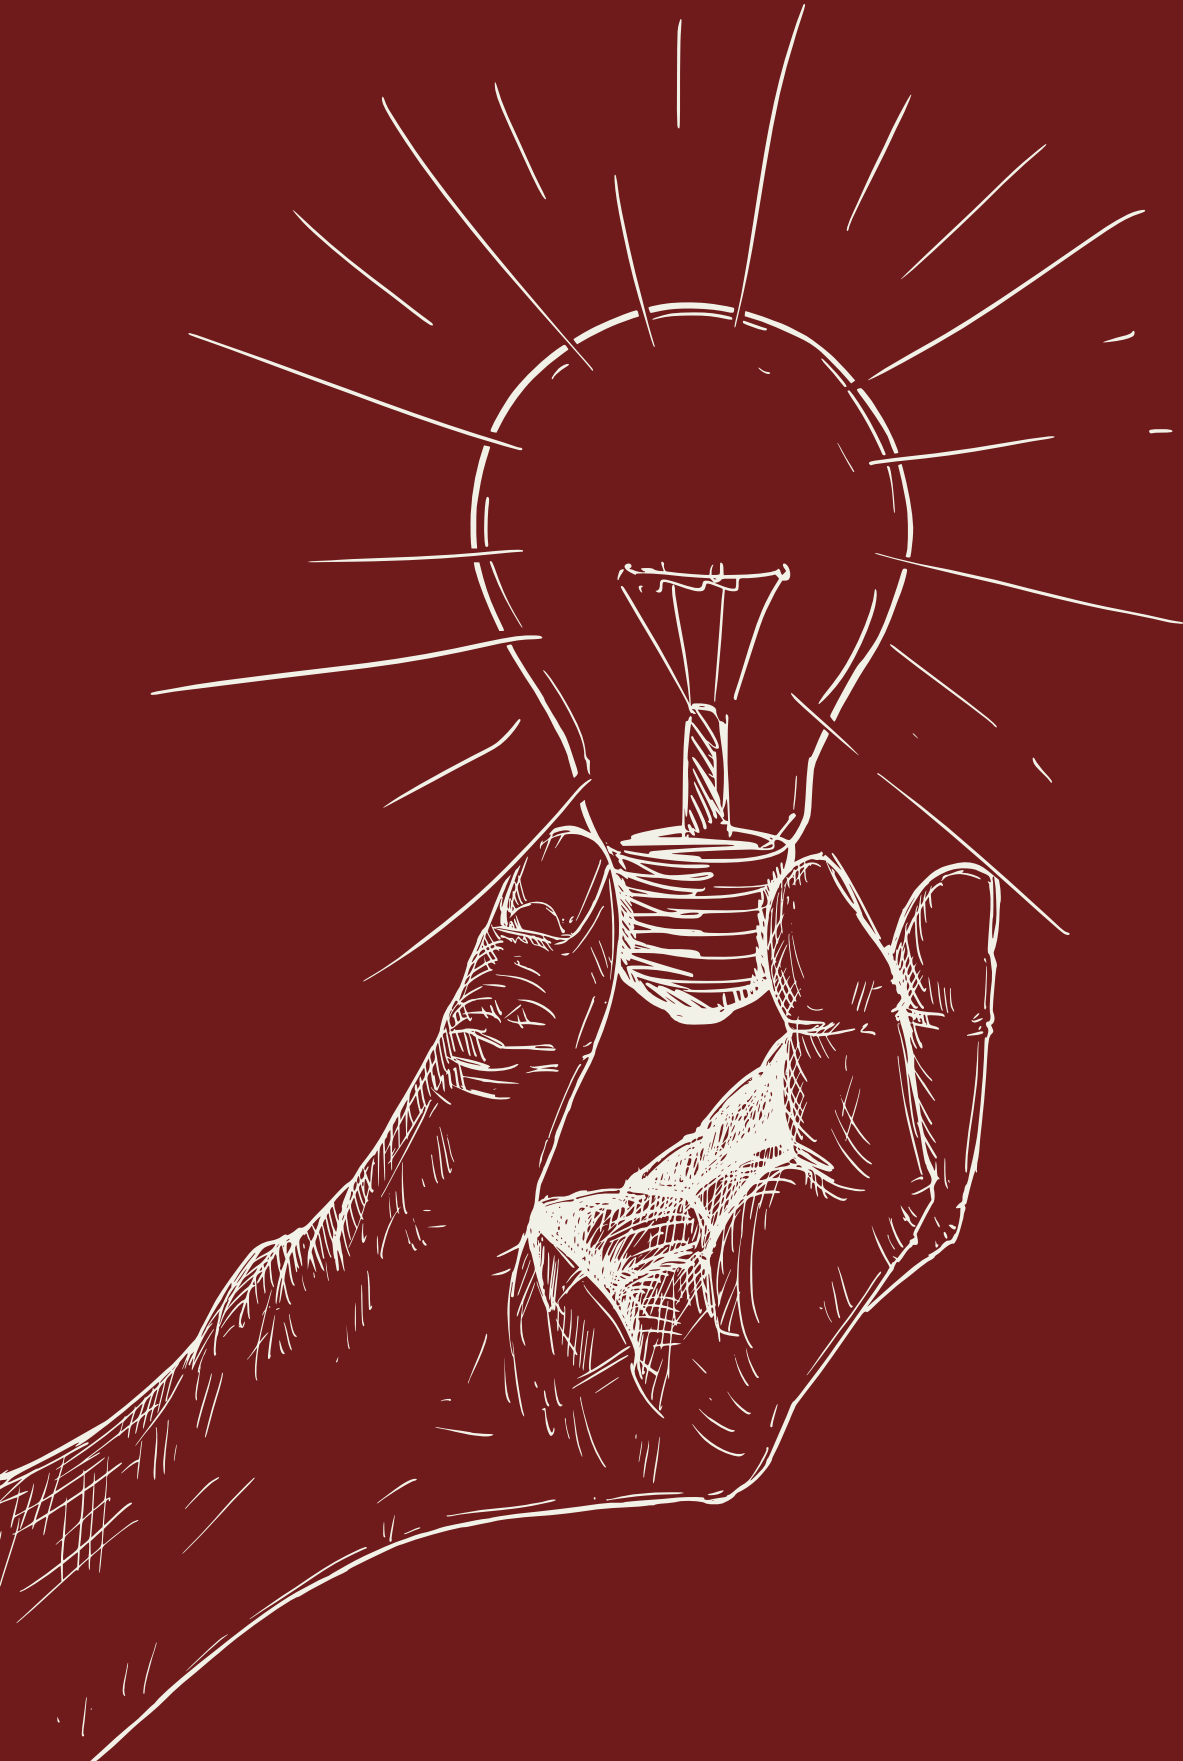

QUESTION FOUR:

What do you enjoy
learning about at work?
Why?

You can share areas that fall outside your job scope.

INSIGHT:

We experience rapid learning in areas of interests.

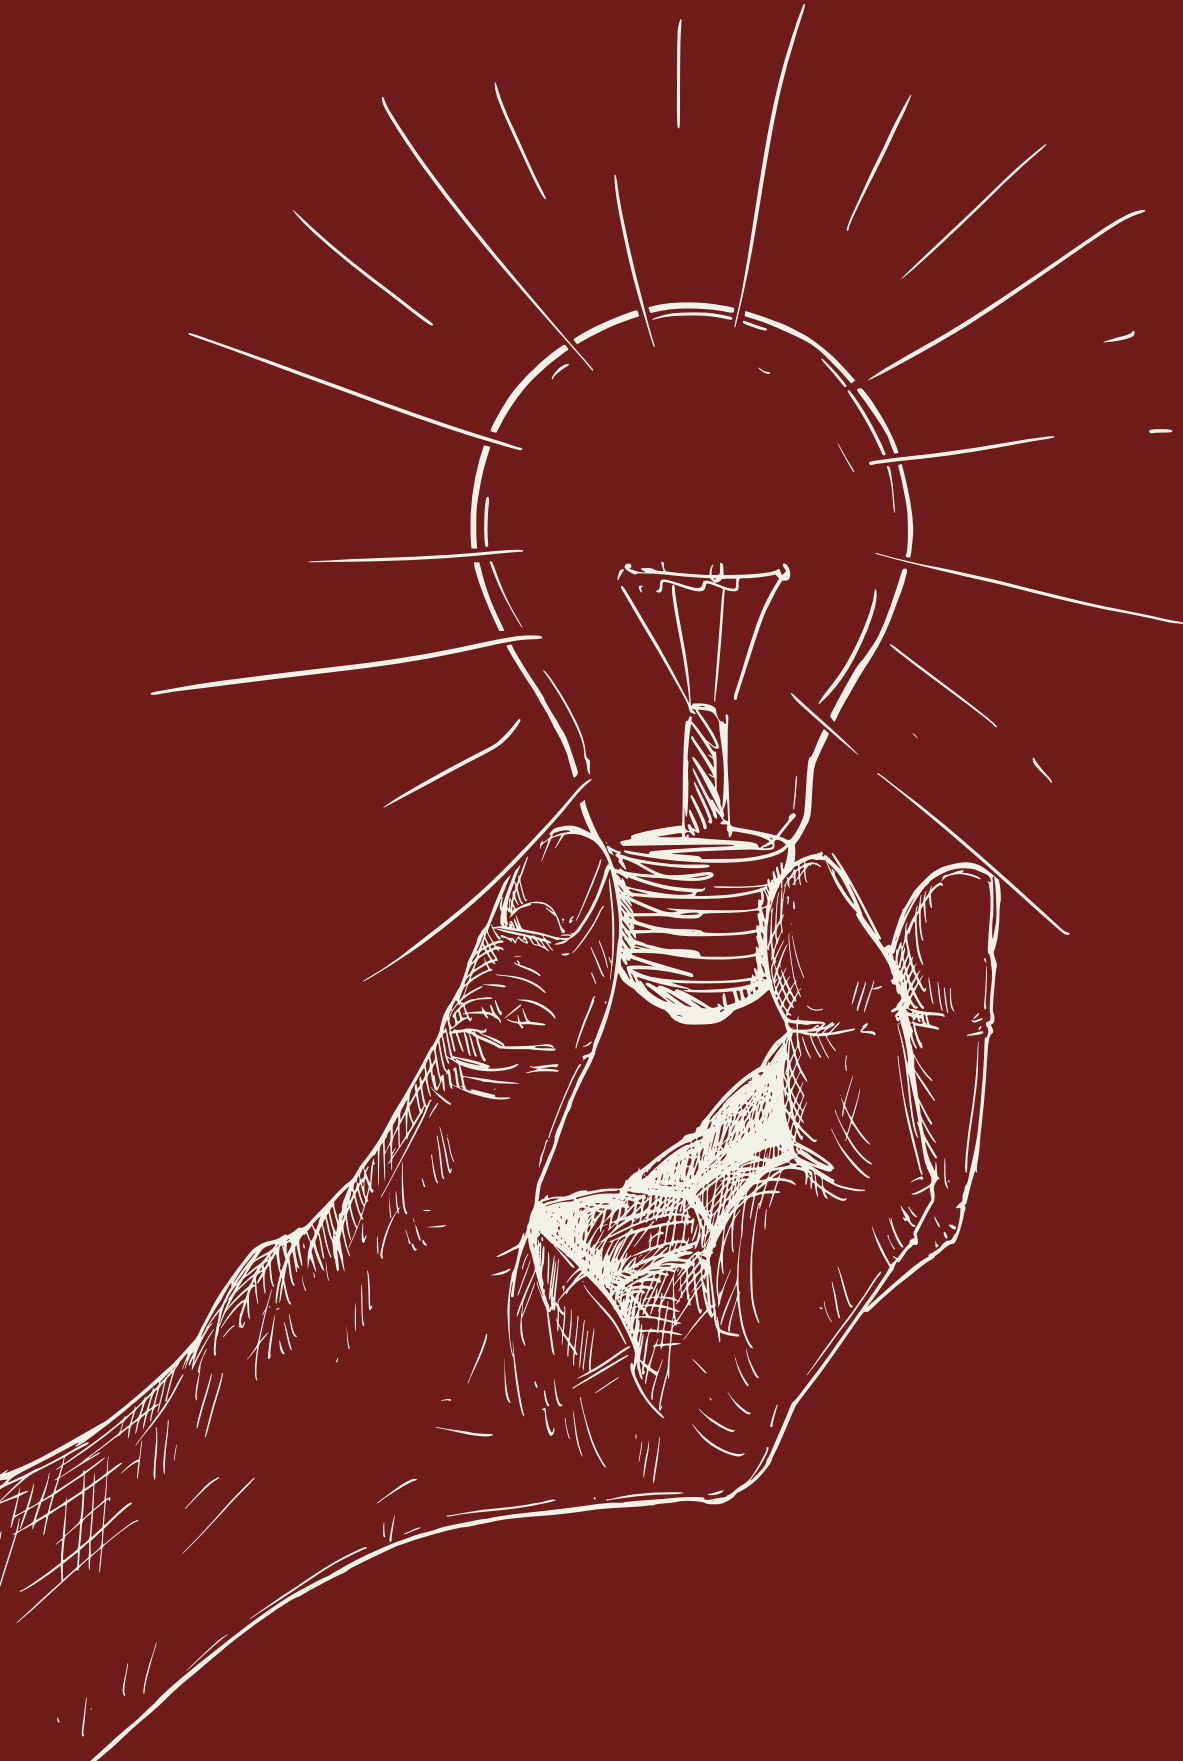

Understanding these areas allows us to empower fellow team members to seek opportunities for growth.

QUESTION FIVE:

What kind of tasks
at work come most easily to you?
Why?

INSIGHT:

The same task that comes easily to us
could be challenging to others.

These are potential partnerships that we can explore in our team.

QUESTION SIX:

If you were to choose another career, what would
that be and why?

INSIGHT:

Our dream career gives us a clue to what we value in life.

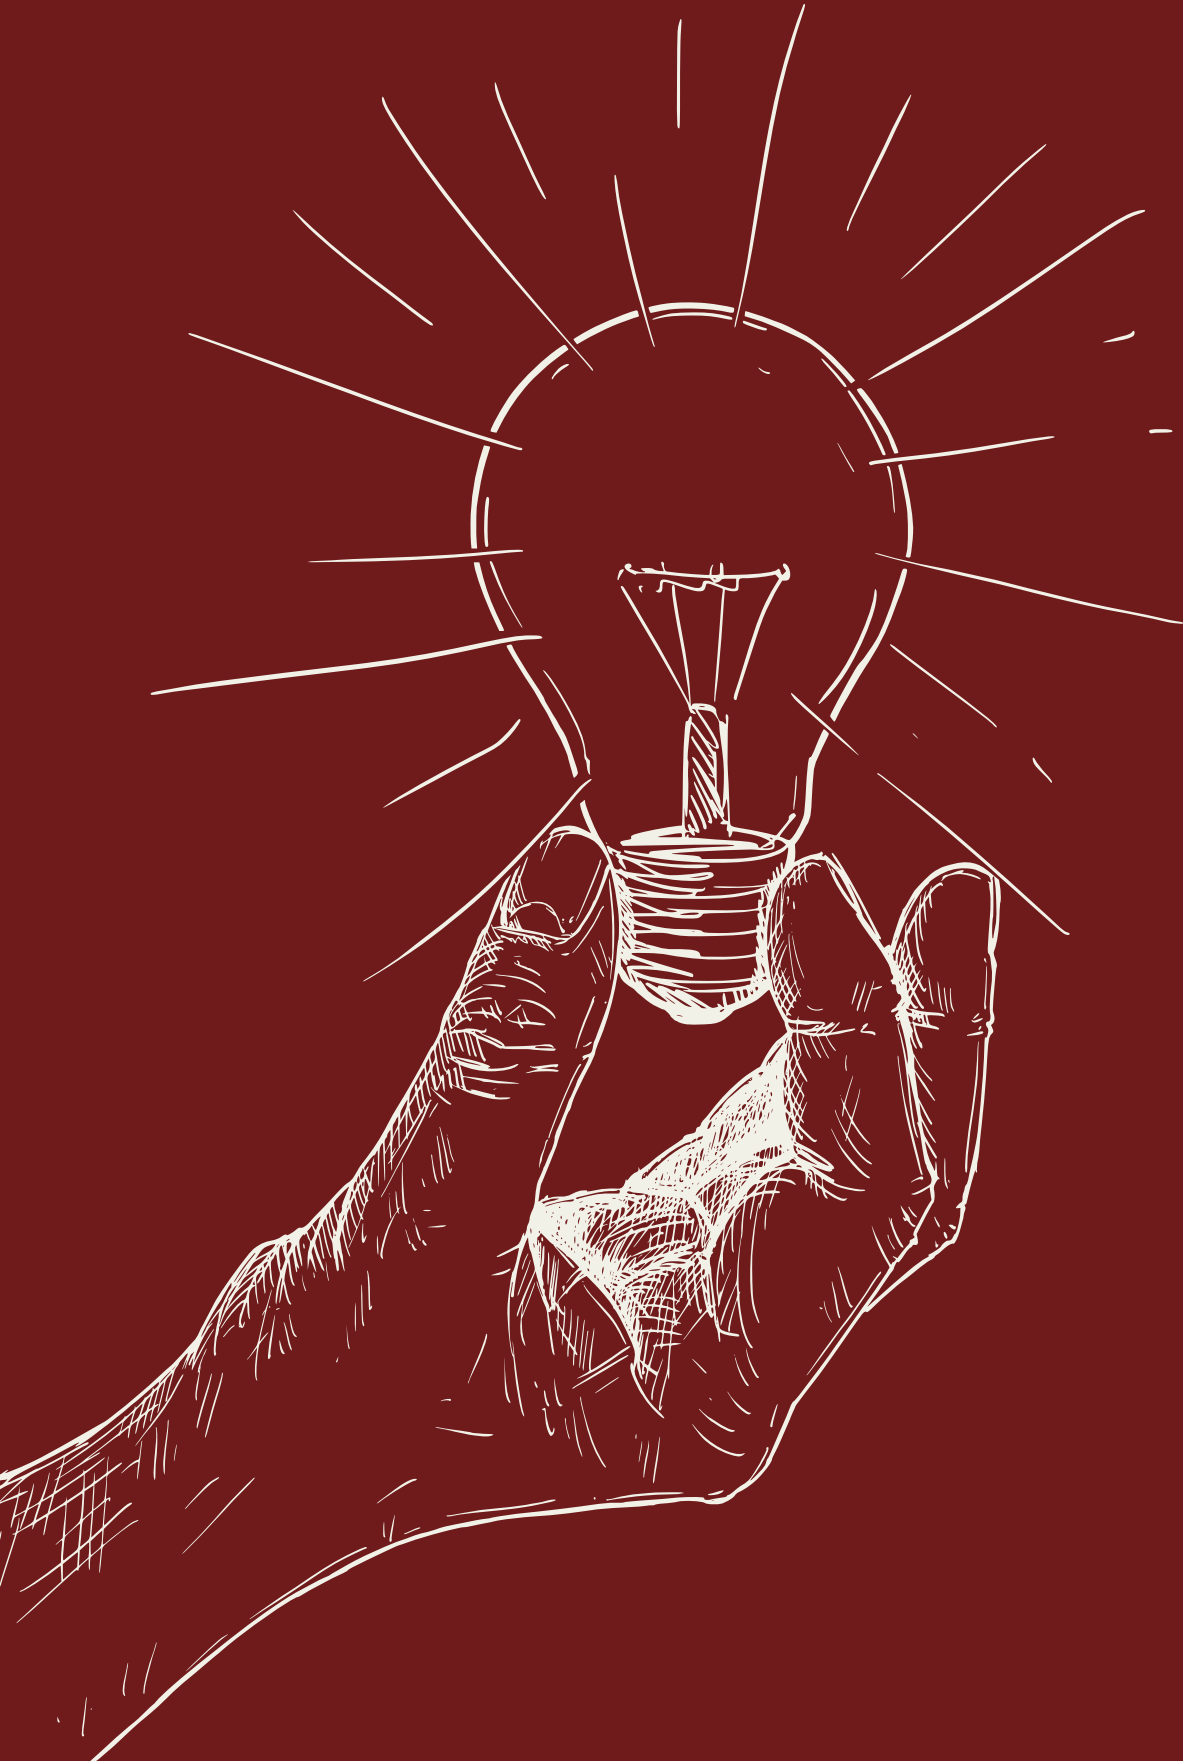

Understanding what others value helps us discover what motivates them.

QUESTION SEVEN:

What are some topics you can talk about for hours and why do they interest you?

INSIGHT:

The topics that we enjoy talkin about could reveal the passions that we have.

Understanding the passions of others
helps us foster stronger connections.

QUESTION EIGHT:

Which superhero
best describes you
and why?

INSIGHT:

Every one of us has innate gifts to offer our team and the world.

The more we celebrate each team member's uniqueness, the more we appreciate their contributions to the team.
